Reunion News

The Reunion becomes more real by the day. We have secured the cinema theatre for Friday night, the schooner for the Saturday, the band for Saturday night, and are now working on finding the right caterer for the weekend . . . Reunion Registration will start with the

April Jolly Boat (No.6) rather than with this Jolly Boat, as previously mentioned. We are working on a registration system that will allow you to register and pay online using credit card or PayPal, hopefully making it easy for crew anywhere in the world to signup without hassle . . . It's time to start getting together the participants in the Roundtables, so if you want to participate in any of the 3 (Scientific Research, Sail Rigs & Voyaging, RM as Film/Video Setting) contact us. Note that even those of you who cannot attend the reunion can participate in the planning for the Roundtables . . . In the past month, several crew have written in to try to get their entries on the Crew Timeline corrected. Note that you can make corrections to your mailing list profile by clicking on the "update subscription preferences" in tiny print at the very bottom of the Jolly Boat. Unfortunately, this does not automatically update your position on the Crew Timeline. That is done manually by us, and so is subject to our editing errors. Keep an eye on your timeline position and let us know if it needs correcting! . . . For those of you with vacation time to fill in the Gloucester area prior to the Reunion, there is a link below to the Gloucester Schooner Race that takes place on the weekend prior (August 30 - Sept 1) to our reunion . . . . If you want to volunteer to participate in a Roundtable, make a suggestion, or volunteer to help, send in a scientific report, or just ask a question, you can contact the RM Reunion 2013 Organizing Crew at

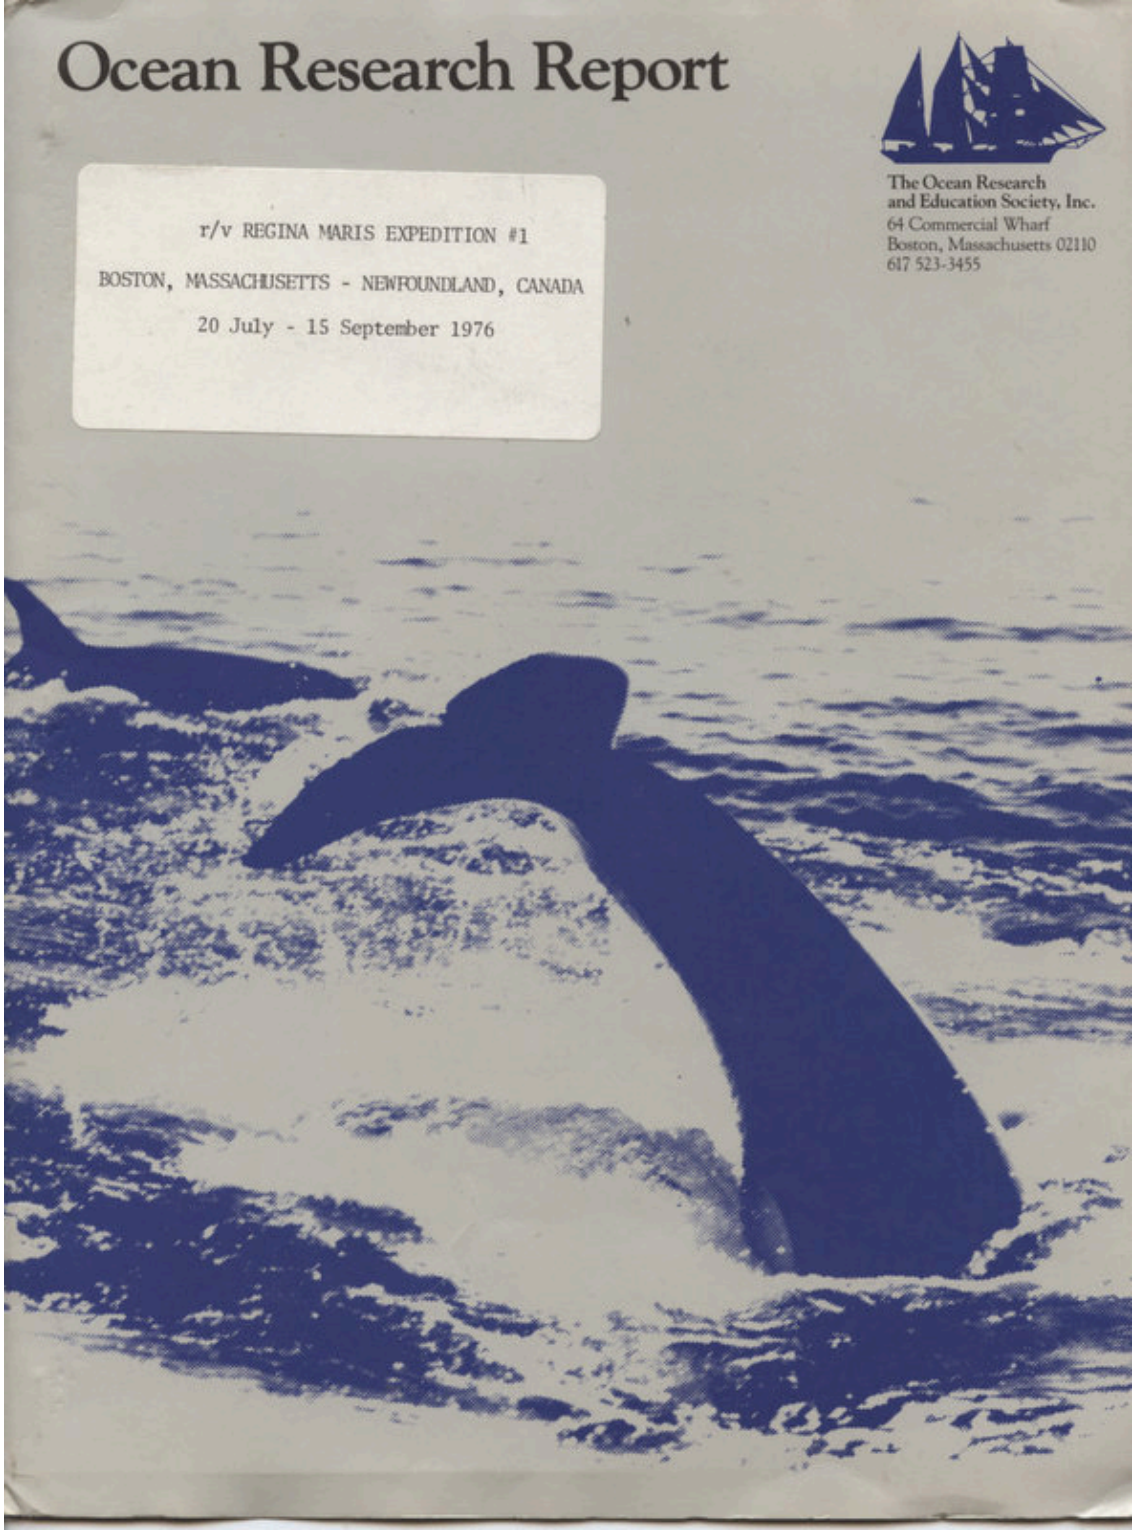
Ocean Research Reports



During the Ocean Research and Education Society (ORES) years, Ocean Research Reports were published for every Expedition of the Regina Maris. These reports were scientific papers covering the research performed by scientists, students and crew during a voyage. At the reunion we plan to have a complete hard copy collection of both Ocean Research Reports and peer review journal papers available for you to read and discuss. But we need your help. Our collection thus far is limited to the Reports listed below. Do any of you have copies of the missing Expedition Reports or of any Regina-generated peer review journal articles? If so, please send pdf versions to us at reginamaris1908@gmail.com. (Thanks to J Perran Ross and Ken Balcomb for supplying all the Reports collected thus far.)
